Passcovery Co. Ltd., the supplier of lightning-fast password recovery solutions, has updated its line of solutions that run on NVIDIA and AMD graphics cards. Now all the solutions support NVIDIA GK110 architecture (GeForce GTX Titan и Tesla K20/K20X graphics cards).

In addition to support for these new, powerful NVIDIA graphics cards, all of the solutions also feature a new Password Mutation Editor that makes customized dictionary attacks easier than ever.

The GPU password recovery line includes the following products:

- Accent OFFICE Password Recovery for Microsoft Office 2007-2013 documents and files created in all versions of OpenOffice
- Accent RAR Password Recovery for RAR 3.x archives created using WinRar 2.90 or higher

GPU Password Recovery

A password recovery solution that supports a wide range of graphics cards is always the best choice.

The benefits of GPU computing for heavy tasks like password recovery are immediately apparent: speeds are significantly higher than what even the best CPU can deliver. Top graphics cards like GeForce GTX Titan or Radeon HD7970 can run password recovery tasks dozens of times faster than an average CPU.

The entire updated line of Accent Password Recovery solutions runs on AMD and NVIDIA graphics cards.

Password Mutation Editor

Accent ZIP Password Recovery and all the other solutions now feature an easy-to-use Password Mutation Editor that immediately displays how password rules the user develops will perform during a dictionary attack.

The editor's clear visualization makes it easier to use the built-in macrolanguage to create customized rules and take dictionary attacks to a totally new level.
